

Write down which program description matches the program your table was given.

Write down the planned code for your group's artwork.

Write down any changes that had to be made to get your programs working.

Write down a final description of how your program works and what it does.